PulteGroup Again Included on PEOPLE's 100 Companies that Care® List

PulteGroup ranked third for the second year in a row

ATLANTA, AUGUST 31, 2022 – PulteGroup, Inc. (NYSE: PHM) today announced its recognition on the 2022 PEOPLE Companies that Care® list by Great Place to Work® and PEOPLE magazine. This year the company ranked third among the top 100 companies. PulteGroup made its debut on this prestigious list in 2021.

“We are honored to be included on the 2022 PEOPLE Companies that Care list for the second year in a row and are proud of the difference our employees make at work and in our communities,” said Michelle Hairston, senior vice president of human resources at PulteGroup. “Inherent to our culture is an effort to lead with care and appreciation for our customers, trade partners, the environment, and most importantly, each other. We are thrilled to see our employees being recognized this way.”

In May, PEOPLE featured PulteGroup's Built to Honor program, an example of how the company gives back to the communities it serves. Launched nearly a decade ago, Built to Honor provides mortgage-free homes to veterans living with disabilities as a result of their military service. This November, PulteGroup will deliver its milestone 75th home to United States Army Sergeant David Speights and his family in Dallas, Texas.

“Caring isn't about being ‘nice,’” says Sarah Lewis-Kulin, vice president of global recognition at Great Place to Work. “It's about understanding the real needs of your people, your community and the world—and showing up in ways that make a meaningful impact. These companies make that kind of caring for people, and even the environment, part of their daily fabric.”

This recognition follows several other workplace achievements for the company. Earlier this year, PulteGroup was ranked #43 among Fortune's 100 Best Companies to Work For® and #33 among Best Workplaces for Millennials™.
